KOROSEAL WALLCOVERING RECLAMATION PROGRAM

THE EASY WAY TO RECYCLE WALLCOVERING

To reduce the amount of material being disposed in landfills, KOROSEAL is proud to offer the KOROSEAL Wallcovering Reclamation Program. Through the Reclamation Program, KOROSEAL will reclaim and recycle used vinyl wallcoverings. Here's how it works:

- Any fabric backed (woven and non-woven) vinyl wallcoverings can be reclaimed, including competitor's wallcoverings. (We cannot take back Teflon® laminated wallcoverings.)
- KOROSEAL can accept residual drywall and adhesive on the returned wallcovering. (Other contaminants such as nails, razor/blades, wood, glass, and garbage must be removed.)
- Customers do need to place a new order with KOROSEAL in order to return wallcoverings.
- Customers send the used wallcovering to KOROSEAL's plant. Wallcoverings must be packaged properly to assure the materials remain dry and clean.
- The customer is responsible for shipping the used wallcovering to the KOROSEAL plant. However, KOROSEAL will pay the freight costs, as long as the customer purchases an equal amount of wallcovering that is returned to the KOROSEAL plant (assume 1 pound of returned wallcovering = 1 yard of new wallcovering).
- Participating in the Reclamation Program can contribute to a building achieving LEED® points. The Building Product Disclosure and Optimization Credit (extended producer responsibility) requires products be purchased from a manufacturer that participates in an extended producer responsibility program. The Koroseal Wallcovering Reclamation Program is an extended producer responsibility program. The Construction Waste Management Credit requires construction and demolition waste be recycled or salvaged. By returning used wallcovering to Koroseal, a building owner is recycling construction and demolition waste.
